

TENALI RAMAN EXCELS

Eminent scholars from different parts of the country have assembled at the king's durbar for the routine debate. Raman went directly to the durbar and sat among the audience. It was a discussion and debate on 'illusion'. A proud scholar said that, 'All we see on earth are mere illusions. Our happiness, well-being, sadness are all illusions. It is only the thoughts which make us happy or sad'. Everybody assembled at the durbar agreed with his arguments. 'What a philosopher he is!' they hailed the scholar.

The king looked around to see anybody to counter the scholar. But no one came forward. The king felt dejected. Suddenly he heard a voice and it was Raman challenging the scholar. "Dear friends, the scholar said here that it was thought which gives us happiness and sadness. At present it is noon and let the beloved king give us sumptuous meal. We can all eat the food. The scholar should not eat it. Let him think that he is eating. Will this thought satisfy his hunger?" Raman challenged. His arguments put the scholar in a fix. The king called Raman to his side and congratulated. He gave Raman prizes including gold coins.
